

What procedures are in place already?

Are you doing what your policy states?

How do you document the administration of medicines?

Are you confident in knowing how to store different types of medication?

Are you confident in your practices?

How do you obtain the information?

Is your training up to date?